Statement 1

Kayne Anderson NextGen Energy & Infrastructure, Inc. (NYSE: KMF) paid distributions to stockholders during 2020 that were determined to be nontaxable upon computation of KMF's earnings and profits after the tax year-end. A stockholder's basis in KMF is reduced by the return of capital distribution amounts reflected in the table below.

Common Stock Distributions

Total KMF Distributions Per Share:			$0.4950	$0.0138

Nontaxable distributions are treated as return of capital for tax purposes (i.e., not considered to be taxable income) and thus reduce the cost basis of the shareholder's investment. Stockholders who received these distributions should not include these amounts in taxable income, but instead should treat them as a reduction of the cost basis of the applicable shares upon which these distributions were paid.
